

Describe A Valuable Item That You Would Like To Give As A Gift: IELTS Cue Card

Cue Card/Topic: Describe A Valuable Item That You Would Like To Give As A Gift

You should say

What was the gift/valuable item?

Whom do you give it to?

How did you feel about it?

Why did you choose this gift/valuable item for the person?

Describe A Valuable Item That You Would Like To Give As A Gift: Sample Answers

Sample Answer 1

Introduction (Covers: What was the gift?)

- The valuable item I would like to give as a gift is a handcrafted wooden music box.
- I chose this gift because it combines craftsmanship with sentimental value.
- The music box plays a beautiful melody, and I believe it can evoke cherished memories for the recipient.
- This gift reflects my appreciation for both artistry and emotional connection.

Describing Your Experience/Opinion/Interest (Covers: Whom you gave it to?)

- During a holiday trip, I first encountered this music box in a quaint shop.
- The intricate carvings and the soothing tune instantly captivated me.
- I bought it with the thought of gifting it to my grandmother, knowing its uniqueness would be appreciated.
- This music box is special because it blends beauty and nostalgia.

Key Highlights (Covers: How did you feel about it?)

- The music box is made of high-quality walnut wood, giving it a rich and elegant appearance.
- The intricate carvings on the lid depict a serene nature scene, adding to its charm. Inside, a delicate mechanism plays "Clair de Lune," which evokes tranquillity and warmth.
- The music box also has a small compartment, perfect for storing tiny keepsakes, making it both beautiful and functional.

Conclusion (Covers: Why did you choose this gift for this person?)

- I chose this music box as a gift for my grandmother, who has always loved classical music and appreciates fine craftsmanship.

- Giving her this music box made me feel incredibly happy and fulfilled, knowing it would bring her joy.
- This gift is perfect for her because it combines her interests in music and art and serves as a lasting reminder of our special bond.

Sample Answer 2

Introduction (Covers: What was the gift?)

- The valuable item I would like to give as a gift is a traditional silk saree from Kanchipuram.
- I chose this gift because it embodies Indian heritage and craftsmanship. The saree's exquisite design and vibrant colours make it a perfect gift for a special occasion.
- This gift reflects my admiration for our rich cultural traditions.

Describing Your Experience/Opinion/Interest (Covers: Whom you gave it to?)

- I first saw this saree during a family trip to Kanchipuram, a town renowned for its silk weaving.
- The intricate patterns and the sheen of the silk immediately caught my eye. I purchased it with the thought of gifting it to my mother, knowing its beauty would be treasured.
- This saree holds a special place in my heart as it represents our cultural heritage and the skilled artistry of Indian weavers.

Key Highlights (Covers: How did you feel about it?)

- The saree is made from the finest Kanchipuram silk, known for its durability and lustrous texture.
- The vibrant colours and intricate zari work depict traditional motifs like peacocks and temples, adding to its allure.
- The pallu, or the decorative end of the saree, features elaborate designs that highlight the craftsmanship.
- The saree is both elegant and timeless, making it a cherished addition to any wardrobe.

Conclusion (Covers: Why did you choose this gift for this person?)

- I chose this Kanchipuram silk saree as a gift for my mother, who has always appreciated traditional Indian attire and fine craftsmanship.
- Giving her this saree made me feel proud and delighted, knowing it would enhance her collection.
- I believe this gift is perfect for her because it reflects her love for Indian culture and art and symbolises my deep respect and affection for her.

Sample Answer 3

Introduction (Covers: What was the gift?)

- I would like to give a valuable item as a gift: a gold pendant with a peacock design. I chose this gift because it symbolises beauty, grace, and prosperity, which are significant in our culture.
- The pendant's intricate design and meaningful symbolism make it a thoughtful and cherished gift.

Describing Your Experience/Opinion/Interest (Covers: Whom you gave it to?)

- I discovered this pendant at a jewellery exhibition in Jaipur, which is renowned for its exquisite craftsmanship.
- The delicate design and the vibrant enamel work immediately drew my attention.
- I bought it intending to gift it to my sister, knowing it would be greatly appreciated.
- This pendant holds a special place in my heart as it represents the elegance and richness of Indian jewellery.

Key Highlights (Covers: How did you feel about it?)

- The pendant is crafted from 22-carat gold, ensuring its high quality and durability.
- The peacock design is adorned with colourful enamel work, making it both striking and unique.
- Small gemstones embedded in the design add to its elegance. Its detailed craftsmanship and symbolic significance make it a valuable and meaningful gift.

Conclusion (Covers: Why did you choose this gift for this person?)

- I chose this gold peacock pendant as a gift for my sister, who loves traditional jewellery and appreciates fine craftsmanship.
- Giving her this pendant made me feel joyful and content, knowing it would bring her happiness.
- This gift is perfect for her because it symbolises beauty and grace, qualities that she embodies, and it serves as a lasting reminder of our close bond.

Describe A Valuable Item That You Would Like To Give As A Gift: Follow-up Questions

Question 1: Why do people give valuable gifts?

Answer 1: People give valuable gifts to show their appreciation and love for the recipient. It's a way to convey how much they value the relationship. Additionally, valuable gifts often hold sentimental value, creating lasting memories and strengthening bonds between people.

Answer 2: People give valuable gifts to mark significant occasions or milestones. These gifts often reflect the giver's desire to make the moment memorable. Valuable gifts can also be seen as a sign of respect and admiration, showing the recipient that they hold an important place in the giver's life.

Question 2: How do you decide what to give someone?

Answer 1: I decide what to give someone by considering their interests and preferences. I try to choose a gift that reflects their personality and hobbies. I also think about the occasion's significance and select something meaningful and memorable for them.

Answer 2: I consider the recipient's needs and desires when deciding on a gift. I often observe what they talk about or show interest in. I also take into account their lifestyle and the practicality of the gift. My goal is to give them something that will bring them joy and be useful in their daily life.

Question 3: Do you think the cost of the gift matters?

Answer 1: I don't think the cost of the gift matters as much as the thought and effort put into choosing it. A gift's value is not always determined by its price tag but by its sentiment. A heartfelt, thoughtful gift can be more meaningful than an expensive one.

Answer 2: While the cost of a gift can sometimes reflect the giver's commitment, I believe it's more important that the gift suits the recipient's tastes and needs. A well-chosen, inexpensive gift can be just as appreciated as a costly one, especially if it shows that the giver truly knows and understands the recipient.

Question 4: How do cultural differences affect gift-giving?

Answer 1: Cultural differences can significantly affect gift-giving practices. In some cultures, giving gifts is an important tradition during festivals and celebrations. The type of gifts given and how they are presented can vary greatly, reflecting each society's cultural values and customs.

Answer 2: Different cultures have unique traditions and etiquettes surrounding gift-giving. For example, in some cultures, the presentation and wrapping of the gift are as important as the gift itself. Understanding these cultural nuances is crucial to ensure the gift is appropriate and appreciated.